

Instructions on completing the Direct Credit Authority

In the absence of your authority to pay dividends to a Bank, Building Society or Credit Union account, you will receive cash dividends by cheque.

Payment of Dividends direct to an Australian Bank, Building Society or Credit Union account

This option allows shareholders the option of having dividends credited directly into a nominated Bank, Building Society or Credit Union account in Australia. These dividends will be in Australian currency.

Some of the benefits of this facility for shareholders are:

- The service is a fast and more efficient way of banking dividends and is not subject to postal delays.
- The risk of loss or theft of cheques is removed.
- No additional Bank, Building Society or Credit Union charges are incurred.
- At the time of the dividend payment, a detailed payment notice will be issued to shareholders using the service.

Invalid Authority

Any authority received which is incomplete or incorrectly signed will be invalid, and dividends will continue to be forwarded by cheque until such time as a valid authority is received.

Signature/s

All holders of a joint shareholding are required to sign. Companies must sign in accordance with their Constitution. Each signatory must have their position of office clearly stated.
